

NGC Software® Named a Leader in 19 Categories in the 2019 RIS Software LeaderBoard

NGC is recognized as a Leader in Customer Satisfaction, Return on Investment, Quality of Support and Service, Performance, Technology Innovation and more

MIAMI—Dec. 18, 2018—New Generation Computing, Inc. (“NGC”), a leading provider of cloud-based solutions for product lifecycle management (PLM), supply chain management (SCM), quality control and vendor compliance, today announced that it was named a leader in 19 categories in the 2019 RIS Software LeaderBoard. This marks the seventh consecutive year that NGC has appeared in the LeaderBoard, underscoring the Company’s continued focus on customer satisfaction, technical superiority and support.

The RIS Software LeaderBoard ranks technology vendors based on customer satisfaction surveys across a wide range of criteria, serving as an objective guide to help retailers find the vendors and solutions they need. It is widely recognized as one of the retail industry’s most authoritative rankings of retail technology software vendors.

One NGC customer quoted in the report said, “NGC is an outstanding company and has been a great partner for quite a few years now. They have provided a suite of solutions that have allowed us to effectively implement global specifications and quality management systems for our business. We look forward to working with them for many years to come with their PLM solutions.”

NGC was named a leader in 19 software categories, placing NGC among leading retail solution providers. NGC earned high rankings in Customer Satisfaction, Return on Investment, Quality of Support, Quality of Service, Recommendation, Overall Performance, Total Cost of Operation, Technology Innovation, Software Reliability, Ease of Installation & Integration, and Ease of Administration & Maintenance.

“We’re proud to once again be recognized by our customers as a leader among top solution providers,” said Mark Burstein, president, NGC. “Following last year’s introduction of NGC’s Andromeda Cloud Platform®, 2018 has been another successful year for NGC as fashion brands and retailers increasingly turn to Andromeda for digital supply chain solutions.”
